

INDEX METHODOLOGY

NASDAQ SPROTT COPPER MINERS INDEX

NSCOPP

INDEX DESCRIPTION

The Nasdaq Sprott Copper Miners Index is designed to track the performance of a selection of securities in the copper industry. Copper is a raw material that is essential to the transition to a less carbon-intensive economy. Copper is critical for the energy transition from fossil fuels to cleaner energy sources and technologies, and for the purpose of this, index include copper producers, developers, and explorers.

SECURITY ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Security types

A security must be classified as a common stock, ordinary share, depositary receipt or ETP. References to the “issuer” of a depositary receipt are references to the issuer of the underlying security.

Multiple securities per issuer

One security per issuer is permitted. If an issuer has multiple otherwise-eligible securities, only the security with the highest three-month average daily traded value may be eligible.

Listing Exchanges

A security must be listed on an exchange named in Appendix A.

Industries and sectors

A security’s issuer must be classified by Sprott as a growing Copper Producer, Developer or Explorer, with a Copper intensity score of at least 50%. Classification is based on the definitions below.

- Producers: companies that extract copper and that have a significant percentage of their revenue tied to the sale of copper.
- Developers: companies that have the majority of their operations related to preparing mines for copper production.

- Explorers: companies that have the majority of their operations related to searching for copper.

Market capitalization

The issuer of a security not in the Index as of the Reconstitution Reference Date must have a free float market capitalization of at least $50 million (USD).

The issuer of a security in the Index as of the Reconstitution Reference Date must have a free float market capitalization of at least $30 million (USD).

Seasoning

A security must have been traded at least three months prior to the Reconstitution Reference Date.

Liquidity

A security not in the Index as of the Reconstitution Reference Date must have a three-month average daily traded value of at least $50,000 (USD).

A security in the Index as of the Reconstitution Reference Date must have a three-month average daily traded value of at least $30,000 (USD).

Other eligibility

If, at reconstitution, Nasdaq becomes aware that an issuer or security will soon undergo a fundamental change that makes it ineligible, Nasdaq will remove the security from consideration. This includes entering into a definitive merger or acquisition agreement or other pending arrangement that would make it ineligible for Index inclusion, or a filing of bankruptcy or similar protection from creditors, or other events as described in Section 3 of Corporate Actions and Events Manual – Equities.

INDEX CALENDAR

Reconstitution schedule

The Index is reconstituted semi-annually in June and December by applying the Constituent Selection Process to all securities that meet the applicable Security Eligibility Criteria.

Reconstitution reference dates

Unless otherwise specified, the Security Eligibility Criteria and Constituent Selection Process are applied by using data as of the last trading day of May and November.

Reconstitution announcement dates

Index Reconstitutions are announced in early June and December.

Reconstitution effective dates

Index Reconstitutions become effective at market open on the first trading day following the third Friday of June and December.

Rebalance schedule

The Index is rebalanced semi-annually in June and December in conjunction with the Index Reconstitution. The Index Rebalance Reference Dates, Announcement Dates and Effective Dates are the same as those of the Index Reconstitution.

Holiday schedules

The Index is calculated Monday through Friday and does not close for holidays.

Index calculation and dissemination schedule

The Index Value is calculated five (5) days a week, Monday through Friday, once per second from the start of the trading day in Tokyo (09:00:01 Japan Standard Time) until the close of the trading day in New York (17:16:00 Eastern Time).

CONSTITUENT SELECTION

Every security that meets all applicable Security Eligibility Criteria is included in the Index.

CONSTITUENT WEIGHTING

Constituent weighting scheme

The Index is a modified free-float market capitalization-weighted index.

Constituent weighting process

Index security weights are determined using the process detailed below:

1. Each Index Security's initial weight is determined by dividing its free float market capitalization by the aggregate free-float market capitalization of free-float Index Securities.

Initial weights are then adjusted in the following order:

2. All securities are capped at 24% aggregate weight. All securities, not including the heaviest weighted security, are then capped at 10%
3. Securities that make up more than 5% are then grouped, and while securities that are more than 5% exceed 50% of the Index weight, the smallest weights in the said group are then reweighted to 4.75% till the group no longer makes up more than 49% of the Index weight.

Weights are then adjusted to meet the following constraints:

- The aggregate weight of securities with a weight greater than 5% may not exceed 49%.
- No security weight may exceed 24%.
- No security that is not the top-weighted security may exceed 10%.

For additional information about index weighting, see Nasdaq Index Weight Calculations.

INDEX MAINTENANCE

Deletion policy

If, at any time other than an Index Reconstitution, Nasdaq determines that an Index Security has or will undergo a fundamental alteration that would make it ineligible for Index inclusion, the Index Security is removed as soon as practicable. Such alternations may include a merger, acquisition or other major corporate event that would otherwise adversely affect the integrity of the Index.

Corporate actions

In the interim periods between scheduled index reconstitution and rebalancing events, individual Index securities may be the subject to a variety of corporate actions and events that require maintenance and adjustments to the Index. With the exception(s) noted below, specific treatment of each type of corporate action or event is described in Nasdaq Corporate Actions and Events Manual – Equities, which is incorporated herein by reference.

In certain cases, corporate actions and events are handled according to the weighting scheme or other index construction techniques employed. Wherever alternate methods are described, the Index will follow the “Non-Market Cap Corporate Action Method.”

Index share adjustments

Other than as a direct result of corporate actions, the Index does not normally experience share adjustments between scheduled Index rebalance and reconstitution events.
