

INDEX METHODOLOGY

NASDAQ GLOBAL DISRUPTIVE TECHNOLOGY BENCHMARK INDEX™

NYDTB

INDEX DESCRIPTION

The Nasdaq Global Disruptive Technology Benchmark Index is designed to track the performance of a selection of companies engaged in artificial intelligence; robotics; automotive innovation; healthcare innovation; new energy & environment; internet of things; and data computing & processing.

Nasdaq has created a theme and sub-theme classification process to review innovative technologies by analyzing millions of approved patents on a rolling one-year basis. The index aims to select companies that may be innovative in their space based on their rolling one-year patent data.

SECURITY ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Security universe

A security either must be included in the Nasdaq Global Index or must be listed on an exchange operated under Nasdaq – All Markets, New York Stock Exchange, Inc., or Cboe Global Markets Inc. as of the Index Reconstitution Reference Date.

Multiple classes of securities

One security per issuer is permitted. If an issuer has multiple otherwise-eligible securities, the security with the highest three-month average daily traded value generally is considered for possible inclusion in the Index. If an issuer has multiple otherwise-eligible securities, one of which is an existing Index Security, the existing Index Security generally is considered for inclusion even if it does not have the highest three-month average daily traded value.

If a security is a depositary receipt, references to its “issuer” are references to the issuer of the underlying security.

Eligible exchanges

A security that is not included in the Nasdaq Global Index must be listed on an exchange operated under Nasdaq – All Markets, New York Stock Exchange, Inc., or Cboe Global Markets Inc.

Industry or sector eligibility

A security issuer must be identified by Nasdaq as involved in at least one of the sub-themes listed in Appendix A.

Other eligibility

If, at reconstitution, Nasdaq becomes aware that an issuer or security will soon undergo a fundamental change that makes it ineligible, Nasdaq will remove the security from consideration. This includes entering into a definitive merger or acquisition agreement or other pending arrangement that would make it ineligible for Index inclusion, or a filing of bankruptcy or similar protection from creditors.

INDEX CALENDAR

Reconstitution schedule

The Index is reconstituted quarterly in January, April, July and October by applying the Quarterly Constituent Selection Process.

Reconstitution reference dates

Unless otherwise specified, the Security Eligibility Criteria and Constituent Selection Process are applied using data as of the end of November, February, May and August, respectively.

Reconstitution announcement dates

Index Reconstitutions are not announced.

Reconstitution effective dates

Index Reconstitutions become effective at market open on the trading day following the third Friday of January, April, July and October.

Rebalance schedule

The Index is rebalanced quarterly in January, April, July and October by following the Constituent Weighting Process. The rebalance announcement and effective dates are the same as those of the reconstitution.

Rebalance reference dates

The Index Rebalance is conducted using issuer market capitalization as of November, February, May and August to determine Index Security weights, and Last Sale Price as of the month-end of December, March, June and September to calculate Index Shares.

CONSTITUENT SELECTION

Quarterly constituent selection process

All securities that meet the applicable Security Eligibility Criteria are included in the Index.

CONSTITUENT WEIGHTING

Constituent weighting scheme

The Index is a market capitalization-weighted index.

Constituent weighting process

Index Securities' weights are determined by dividing each Index Security issuer's market capitalization by the aggregate market capitalization of all Index Security issuers.

For additional information about index weighting, see Nasdaq Index Weight Calculations.

INDEX MAINTENANCE

Deletion policy

If, at any time, Nasdaq determines that an Index Security has or will become ineligible for continued inclusion in the Index due to bankruptcy, delisting, or a definitive agreement that would likely result in the security no longer being Index eligible, the security is removed from the Index as soon as practicable and is not replaced. Ordinarily, a security will be removed from the Index at its Last Sale Price. If, however, at the time of its removal the Index Security is halted from trading on its primary listing market and an official closing price cannot readily be determined, the Index Security may, in Nasdaq's discretion, be removed at a zero price. The zero price will be applied to the Index Security after the close of the market but prior to the time the official closing value of the Index is disseminated.

Corporate actions

In the periods between scheduled index reconstitution and rebalancing events, individual Index securities may be the subject to a variety of corporate actions and events that require maintenance and adjustments to the Index. Specific treatment of each type of corporate action or event is described in Nasdaq Corporate Actions and Events Manual – Equities, which is incorporated herein by reference.

In certain cases, corporate actions and events are handled according to the weighting scheme or other index construction techniques employed. Wherever alternate methods are described, the Index will follow the “Non-Market Cap Corporate Action Method.”

Index share adjustments

Other than as a direct result of corporate actions, the Index does not normally experience share adjustments between scheduled index rebalance and reconstitution events.

Nasdaq Index Management Committee

A methodology document is created for all new Index Methodologies. The methodology document includes the following: Index Objective, Security Eligibility Criteria, Index Construction, Index Maintenance, Index Governance, Index Policy, and Index Dissemination.

The Nasdaq Index Management Committee approves all new Index Methodologies. This committee is comprised of full-time professional members of Nasdaq. The committee meets regularly, and reviews items including, but not limited to, pending corporate actions that may affect Index constituents, statistics comparing the composition of the indexes to the market, companies that are being considered as candidates for addition to an Index, and any significant market events.

For a detailed overview of the Index Management Committee, please see the Nasdaq Index Methodology Guide.

Internal reviews of methodology

For a detailed description on internal reviews of the Methodology, please see the Nasdaq Index Methodology Guide.

Communication with stakeholders and consultations

For a detailed description on Consultations and Communications with Stakeholders, please see the Nasdaq Index Methodology Guide.

Index cessation

Nasdaq has a documented procedure that is followed for Index Cessation that includes termination/retirement of an Index or Index Family.

For more information, please refer to the Nasdaq Index Cessation Policy.

Discretionary adjustment

This Index Methodology was created by Nasdaq to achieve the aforementioned objective of measuring the underlying purpose of each Index governed by this methodology document. Any deviations from this methodology are made in the sole judgment and discretion of Nasdaq so that the Index continues to achieve its objective.

For more information on potential adjustments including Calculation and Pricing Disruptions, Expert Judgment, and Unexpected Reconstitution/Rebalances, please refer to the Nasdaq Index Methodology Guide.
